9 growth benefiting Prince George’s County; and

10 WHEREAS, Prince George’s County faces increasing infrastructure demands across

16 higher costs, and disparate investment; and

17 WHEREAS, an infrastructure bank financing approach as proposed in the Act could 18 provide a flexible, long-term funding mechanism to strengthen capital planning, expand 19 financing capacity, and support coordinated, equitable infrastructure investment across urban, 20 suburban, and underserved communities; and

21 WHEREAS, exploring an infrastructure bank financing model presents an opportunity for 22 Prince George’s County to strengthen its long-term infrastructure planning, improve project

2 WHEREAS, further evaluation of this financing approach would help determine its 3 potential to complement existing funding tools while maintaining fiscal responsibility and public 4 oversight.

6 County, Maryland, that the County Council enthusiastically supports enactment of the "National
