8 Prince George's County, Maryland.

9           WHEREAS, Section 29-120.01 of the Prince George's County Code provides a process for 10 the owner(s) of an historic property to petition the Prince George's County Historic Preservation 11 Commission for Historic Site designation; and

12           WHEREAS, in accordance with the provisions of Sec. 29-120.01 of the Prince George's

19           WHEREAS, the Nancy Tabbs House, located at 5011 Navahoe Street, College Park, was 20 built circa 1935 and is an example of a simplified, Tudor Revival-style dwelling and was

1 designed by notable African American architect Romulus C. Archer, Jr., and is significant as an 2 early dwelling in Lakeland to survive the urban renewal program; and

3 WHEREAS, the Nancy Tabbs House reflects the development of the historically African 4 American community of Lakeland and the heritage of the Gross and Tabbs families, and 5 demonstrates the innovative spirit of Black women in the early twentieth century, as shown by 6 the life of Nancy Tabbs; and

7 WHEREAS, the Historic Preservation Commission recommended that the Nancy Tabbs
8 House (Documented Property 66-000-01), and its 0.266-acre Environmental Setting, (Lot 10, 9 Block 13, "Lakeland"), be designated as a historic site on the basis of certain historic site

13 Park, was built circa 1962 and is significant as an intact representation of a mid-century 14 contemporary-style, split-level kit house on a prominent corner lot; and

15 WHEREAS, the Elwood and Wilmer Gross House is a representative example of the 16 development of Lakeland's residential community and a reflection of the influence of Elwood 17 and Wilmer Gross, particularly during the contested urban renewal project of the latter part of the 18 twentieth century; and

19 WHEREAS, the Historic Preservation Commission recommended that the Elwood and

24 WHEREAS, the George Henry and Agnes Gross House, located at 8002 54th Avenue, 25 College Park, was built circa 1970 and is an example of a modest, raised ranch dwelling, and is 26 significant as the residence constructed for George Henry and Agnes Gross after their earlier 27 home was demolished to accommodate the construction of Paint Branch Elementary School; and

28 WHEREAS, the George Henry and Agnes Gross House embodies the resilience of the 29 Lakeland community in the face of discriminatory public policy and the modest compensation 30 offered to displaced residents, and reflects the influence of George Henry and Agnes Gross as 31 early Lakeland residents who supported the community's growth and vitality; and

1 WHEREAS, the Historic Preservation Commission recommended that the George Henry
